Reminders

I hope everyone had a great fall break! A few important updates...

- We started math groups this week! Students are going to various classrooms in the morning to get math instruction based on their needs and abilities. I believe this will be very beneficial for our school!
- You may have noticed a baggie with a leveled book in your child's book bag. This book is for your child to read at home using a book on their level. Please make sure that these books are kept safe in their book bag. These books will be traded out with a new book each time we finish reading a book in their guided reading groups in class.
- There will be an additional OPTIONAL homework sheet in your child's agenda this week. If you feel like you would like to have your child complete these activities as extra homework, they will be sent home each month. I do not expect or anticipate all students will do this, only if you wish to give your child some extra enrichment! However, I will give those that return them an extra dojo dollar as a reward!
